

THE HIDDEN LANGUAGE OF SYMBOLS IN ART

A LECTURE BY LECH MAJEWSKI

THURSDAY, APRIL 24, 4 PM,
117 ISENBERG SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

Lech Majewski is a Polish filmmaker, poet, painter and composer. In addition to his works in various art forms, Mr. Majewski has made a number of original films that have earned him international recognition. As a trained painter, he brings to the film image a painter's appreciation of perspective, color and stillness that is unusual in the art of moving pictures. A practitioner of the arts, Mr. Majewski is also an astute critic of contemporary art and culture. In his lecture, he will explore symbolic language in film, painting and architecture.

Mr. Majewski's visit to UMass campus is part of his participation in the Massachusetts Multicultural Film Festival and is supported by the Amesbury Endowment for Polish Studies, the Interdepartmental Program in Film Studies, the Amherst College Russian Department and Hampshire College.
